

2017 AMIA JOINT SUMMITS ON TRANSLATIONAL SCIENCE

March 27 - 30
Parc 55 Hotel, San Francisco
#TBICRI17

Translational Bioinformatics + Clinical Research Informatics

Join Us in Discovering Health Insights

The AMIA Joint Summits on Translational Science is the innovation hub for informatics' leading influencers to share the field's most cutting edge research and applications.

Join informatics research and business leaders to accelerate the transformation of health and healthcare's most pressing issues.

SHAPE the direction of the tests, devices, drugs and trials for preventing, diagnosing and treating diseases' biggest challenges including cancer, diabetes, Alzheimer's and HIV.

DISCOVER insights from the vast amounts of data driving the patient-centric approach to healthcare, including genomics, personalized medicine and precision medicine.

EXPLORE healthcare's breakthroughs in product and technology development to improve patient care and population health.

UNDERSTAND scientific frameworks and methods for successful clinical application.

INFORM healthcare's future approaches to global health such as integrative health, mental health, oncology and infectious diseases.

Joint Summits sponsors are AMIA's partners in education and innovation.

Collaborate with 500+ experts influencing health and healthcare:

Researchers, faculty and students leading biomedical and clinical research

Leaders of academic research institutions

Officials from government agencies

Industry professionals focused on knowledge management and Health IT

Designers and data scientists of healthcare's products and technologies

Computer scientists and system developers advancing research frameworks and methods
